MORRISVILLE "VETS" EXHIBIT HOWITZER

Survivor of European Invasion Given Position of Prominence

FRONT OF POST HOME

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 29—A tested veteran of World War II. has found a permanent home with the Veterans of Foreign Wars post here.

The survivor of the European invasion is a 105 mm. howitzer, which fought from D-Day until the final shot was fired in May of 1945. It is now resting in front of Memorial Post 6176 at 101 Hillcrest avenue, a veteran with a proud record.

The gun was flown into France on June 6, D-Day, by the 101st Airborne Division. It was parachuted to the ground in the vicinity of St.
Mere-Eglise and Carentan, two little Normandy towns.

From there it began compiling its war deeds. It belched death at the German Seventh Army Group as the Americans fought to hold open the exit to Omaha beach. Then it went southward in France to aid in the capture of Carentan.

Later it fought at the St. Lo-Avranches corridor, Arnhem and Ardenne. The gun was trapped with the 101st at Bastogne, where the Americans answered "Nuts" to the Germans' surrender ultimatum, and went on to fight its way to final victory.

The gun was brought to the Morrisville post about six weeks ago from the Aberdeen Ordnance Depot in Maryland. Its war record was authenticated by official army records.

The post feels fortunate in securing the gun because since the outbreak of the Korean fighting many such weapons have been ordered back into active duty.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A meeting of the executive board of the Croydon P. T. A. will be held at the home of the president, William Moran, Cedar avenue, this evening at eight.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

The Soviet Union demanded at a closed session of the United Nations Security Council that the Council's report to the General Assembly omit all mention of action taken during the period of the Russian walkout. The Korean and Formosa questions will be on the Council's agenda today in that order.

President Truman ordered General MacArthur to withdraw his statement to a veterans' convention implying that the United States occupy Formosa, the White House announced. The statement was held to conflict with official policy that Formosa should be neutralized. Republicans denounced the action and inserted the statement in the Congressional Record. General MacArthur had said that in the hands of a hostile power Formosa could become "an unsinkable aircraft carrier and submarine tender" able to "breach and neutralize our Western Pacific defense system."

The Europeans Council in Strasbourg endorsed an eventual European army under unified leadership and called for "peace without appeasement."

Although all-out controls are not needed now, immediate steps should be taken to cut non-military expenses, raise taxes, restrict credits and encourage savings, the Committee for Economic Development declared. Federal agencies were ordered to cut inventories and limit purchases affecting eleven critical materials.

Congress sent to the White House a $36,153,490,425 omnibus appropriations bill the President is expected to sign, although the bill orders a loan to Spain. Mr. Truman signed the measure expanding old-age coverage and benefits and asked Congress for $134,170,300 to meet the added costs.

A five-year contract patterned after that of General Motors and including a 24-cent hourly pay rise was agreed to by union leaders and Packard automobile officials. Nearly 50,000 members of two unions are on strike at International Harvester plants in five states.

Lee Pressman, former C. I. O. counsel and Henry A. Wallace aide, identified John A. Abt, Nathan Witt and Charles Kramer as other Government employees who had served with him in a Communist group in Washington.

A Federal appeals court revoked the bail of eleven Communist leaders, but granted the men thirty days in which to appeal to the Supreme Court.

The Western High Commissioners in Germany decreed the dissolution of the I. G. Farben chemical trust; 214 companies are affected.

Aged Man to Have X-Rays; Is Struck By Truck Here

X-rays are to be taken at Abington Hospital today to determine the extent of injuries suffered by Almerindo Spadacino, age 82, of 913 Cedar street, when he was knocked to the ground while crossing the street. Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, Mr. Spadacino sustained possible injuries to the back and leg.

A truck driven by Peter Cuccinell, of 206 Penn street, hit Spadacino, the truck being owned by Angelo Brothers, of Pond and Penn streets. According to the police report, Cuccinell had halted his truck on Washington street, near Wood street, and started to back the vehicle when he hit Spadacino who attempted to cross the street.
Mr. Spadacino was treated at his home by a physician.

BLUEPRINT OUTLINED IN RED CONSPIRACY

UNDERGROUND WORK

In this second of six articles throwing the spotlight on "The Enemy at Home," Pulitzer Prize reporter Malcolm Johnson tells of the blueprint for conspiracy, originating from the Kremlin, which sets forth just how Communists are to go about wrecking the U. S. and other capitalist countries.

THE ENEMY AT HOME
Chapter Two

NEW YORK, Aug. 29—(INS)—A blueprint for the Communist conspiracy against the United States and other non-Communist countries is found in official party directives originating from the Kremlin.

That blueprint, investigators say, has been followed religiously by members of the Communist Party in the United States. It has resulted in the perfection of a highly effective underground organization for work in peace or war.

Details of the order setting up the underground are contained in an article published by the Communist International, official organ of the Comintern, in New York in September, 1931.

Entitled "Organizational Problems in Underground Revolutionary Work," this amazing document was written by B. Vassiliev, a prominent
national.

Dr. J. B. Matthews, former director of research for the House Un-American Activities Committee and considered one of the foremost authorities on Communism in the country, describes the Vassiliev article as "a veritable primer for Americans who wish to understand the true nature of the Communist Party."

Vassiliev wrote in part:
"The question of an illegal organization must now receive the closest attention of all Communist parties without exception in capitalist countries."

"Thus, the increasing artfulness of the police apparatus of the bourgeois governments in the struggle against the Communist movement makes it essential for the latter to have a more complicated, flexible and accurately functioning organization. This organization will inevitably have to rely on a strong conspirative apparatus, supple-

Monday "Blues" increased

(By "The Stroller") Monday morning, with the wash to be tackled, is blue enough—but suppose you had to get a snake out of your laundry first? Mrs. Charles Mellors, Fleetwing Estates, was set to take care of the first problem when she noticed something black on the basement floor beside the washer. She bent to pick it up, but before she touched it, saw it had a head and a tail, and colored rings around it.

With the help of two neighbors, Mrs. Fagans and son "Donnie," a Boy Scout, the snake was trapped in a cardboard carton and delivered to a nearby woods, where it will be more usefully employed in insect catching than in frightening the "blues" out of "Blue Monday" for a housewife.

FOUR RADIO STARS IN MORRISVILLE FAMILY

Made a Big Hit When They Broadcast from Phila.
Station

WERE INVITED BACK

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 29—The Malmbsbury family of Morrisville didn't know they had four stars in the family until they took a sightseeing trip to Philadelphia.

There the family decided to stop in at radio station WCAU. An amateur show was going on and the four Malmbsbury girls, Claire, Patricia, Shirley and Carol, decided to form an impromptu quartet and do a little singing.

They made a big hit and were invited back to the same program.
Since then they've appeared regularly on the Horn and Hardart Children's Hour program in New York and Philadelphia, and have become an outstanding attraction on radio and television.

The four daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Malmbsbury, of 42 E.
Bridge street, have appeared also on many shows at clubs and organizations, and someday hope to become professionals.

Oldest of the group is Shirley, who is 16 years old. Twins Claire and Carol are 11, and Patricia is 13.
Mrs. Malmbsbury often accompanies her singing daughters on the piano or saxophone. Her original composition, "You're All I'll Ever Ask For," won a prize for the girls on a TV show. Some of the other featured songs of the girls are "Outgoing Tide," and "Stars Are the Windows of Heaven." But they can sing just about anything—and do a good job.

Three of the girls will go back to school in a few weeks. Shirley, who was a featured soloist at her graduation from Morrisville High School last year, has a hard decision to make. She doesn't know whether to become an X-ray technician, or study music.

WCTU of Yardley and the Auxiliary of Trenton Post 93, American Legion.

Edward H., of California; and Robert G., of Morrisville; six daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Buch, Trenton; own; Mrs. Clarence Carson, Rancoas, N. J.; Mrs. Louis Boss, Yardley; Mrs. Earl Clark, Trenton; and nett, of Trenton; and John Bennett,

TO ENFORCE EDICT BARRING ANY LEFT TURN AT CORNER

Controversial Edict To Be Enforced for Period of 30 Days

MILL ST. AND ROUTE 13

Will Be Put Into Effect On Friday, According To Chief

The controversial edict of Bristol Borough Council against left turns at Mill street and old Route 13 is going to be put into effect Friday.
This is the announcement made today by Police Chief Linford J.
Jones. Signs will be posted at the busy intersection and officers will be stationed there to enforce the ruling. The signs may be posted today, it was learned this morning.
The "No Left Turn" sign will be hung on the bottom of the traffic light. A sign reading "Bear Left to Business District and Parking Lot" will be posted at the intersection of Pond street and old Route 13, in front of Municipal Building.

The police committee of council is of the opinion that permitting left turns at the intersection is the cause of the traffic tie-up which extends in both directions along old Route 13 for considerable distances.
Council voted to give the "no-left turn" ruling a tryout. The question was brought to the floor of council August 14th at the regular monthly session of that body.
The ruling was objected to by the Mill Street Business Men's Association, who argued that such a ruling will isolate the merchants in the 400 Block on Mill street and will work a hardship to their business.

As a result of the discussion on the floor of council, the police committee agreed to change their plan to giving the "no-left turn" idea a 30-day trial instead of one lasting three months.

The Mill street business men called a meeting of their members for August 17th, at which time several members of the police committee were present and the question was again discussed pro and con.
The business men were invited to attend a meeting of the committee on August 22nd. Upon arrival at the meeting the business men found the police committee members otherwise engaged, and after waiting an hour declined to wait longer.

Now, according to Chief Jones, the "no-left turn" rule is to be put into effect Friday.

ST. ANN'S WINS AND ASSURES AT LEAST A TIE

St. Ann's A. A. assured itself of at least a deadlock for first place in the Trenton Industrial League by whipping the Atwood team, 8-3, last evening on Memorial Park diamond. The "Saints" meet the Pirates this evening at Trenton. Should St. Ann's win, it will clinch the crown.

Manager "Spike" Scordia's team put the game on ice in the third inning by crossing the plate six times. Feature of this rally was a long double by "Lou" Sassi with the bags loaded. Sassi then scored himself to account for four runs. Errors by Hurley and Mott started the Bristol team to its rally. Dave Muth, Tony Palumbo, and Fred Barbetta also made hits in the spurge.

In the following inning, St. Ann's scored its final two runs on a triple by Dave Morrell, a passed ball, a walk to Palumbo, a stolen base, and singles by Joe Elmer and "Lou" Mari.

Dave Muth pitched another brilliant game as he limited the Jersey team to three safe blows. Two of these hits came in the first frame, helping to score a pair of Atwood runs. The third and final safety was a double by Miller in the fourth, scoring Mott. When Muth got a wild spell in the sixth, Manager Scordia replaced him with Paul Cervellero who went in with the bags loaded and two out. Cervellero forced Hurley to line into a double-play, Mari, unassisted.

Dick Miller pitched for the losing team and gave up eight safe hits. Morrell was the only player to have more than one hit, he having a single in addition to his three-bagger.

ST. ANN'S GRID TEAM TO PRACTICE TONIGHT

St. Ann's A. A. will hold an important football practice this evening at six o'clock on Memorial Park field. Coach "Pete" Borneice would like to see all candidates present.

The "Saints" held their initial drill Sunday morning with about 20 candidates reporting. Several of those trying out for positions were members of high school squads from this area last season.

Coach Borneice is losing several players from last season due to their being called into military service. "Bill" Marion and "Mick" Iannucci, back and lineman of last season, have entered West Chester State Teachers College.

St. Ann's is a member of the Northeast Football Conference and will be defending its championship.

BABE TANCREDE TO VIE FOR HONORS AT LANGHORNE

One of the first men ever to ride in the 100-Mile National Championship motorcycle race here will again vie for top honors when the century classic is staged for the twelfth time at the famed Bucks county oval on Sunday, Sept. 3, as the climax of a two-day racing extravaganza.

He is Babe Tancrede, Woonsocket, R. I. Babe is a real veteran of the motorcycle racing game. He was one of the early entries when the 100-miler was first staged at Langhorne in 1935, and again is among the first flight of experts to file for this year's renewal of the title grind.

The Middle Atlantic Motorcycle Dealers Association is sponsoring the meet, under American Motorcycle Association sanction, as a two-day affair for the first time. A nine-event card is listed for Saturday, Sept. 2, with qualifying time trials for novices, amateurs and experts starting at 12 noon. In addition to the 100-miler, four other events will be staged during the second day of racing.

Tancrede joins a field of entries that is certain to set a numerical record for the cycle contest. Jimmy Chann, Peoria, Ill., formerly of Bridgeton, N. J., will defend his title. Jimmy's two brothers, Pete, Pottstown, Pa., and Steve, New London, Conn., also are entered.

Among the early novice entries are Walt Schoppe, Philadelphia, winner of the recent Pennsylvania State sportsman's stock car championship race at Yellow Jacket Stadium; Bob Bromley, Langhorne, who won the pole as the first to file an entry, and Jim Gregory, a consistent winner in recent races.

ment by widely adopted methods of legal party work.

Vassiliev's directive called for the securing of party archives; the establishment of underground printing plants for use if and when the party is outlawed, and arrangements for substituting leaders for those who may be arrested.

The Comintern article also gave instructions for setting up addresses and houses for "illegal correspondence." Matthews explains that these are known as "letter drops." The residents at such drops usually are not suspected of Communist affiliations. They receive communications by mail or courier and hold them until called for by some one who identifies himself by code, in the tradition of cloak-and-dagger fiction.

The directive elaborates on the legal defense of Communists in "the illegal part of the party apparatus"—a technique demonstrated by the tactics of Communist and pro-Communist lawyers in various cases in the last two years.

The setting up of Communist front organizations is discussed at length in the Vassiliev directive.

He wrote: "In view of the attempts of the ruling classes to drive the Communist parties underground, the work of the parties in various legal mass organizations is of tremendous importance, especially in trade unions and also in organizations such as sport clubs, free-thinkers' leagues, tenants' leagues, international labor defense, etc."

A salient point in the blueprint for conspiracy concerned the establishment of "factory nuclei," or sabotage squads, in key industrial plants. Of this Vassiliev wrote: "While struggling by all means for the possibility to carry on open mass work, all legal Communist parties must even at the present moment make one branch of party work unquestionably illegal. This branch of work is in the factories, the work of the factory nuclei. The factory nuclei must at the present time without question be formed as illegal organizations and must work by illegal methods."

Bear in mind that this directive was published nineteen years ago. In 1931, says Dr. Matthews, the Communist party reported the existence of 125 "factory nuclei."

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says that today "48 per cent of the Communist party membership is in the basic industry of this country."

That means that trained saboteurs and spies are at work in every major airplane factory and defense plant in the country. They may be in a position to halt or delay production.

And they are sworn to do, if this can, especially in a period of emergency such as now exists since the outbreak of the Korean war.

On this point the program of the Communist International, as published in 1936, states:

"The Communist International must devote itself especially to systematic preparation for the struggle against the danger of imperialist wars. . . . The fundamental slogan of the Communist International in this connection must be the following: 'Convert imperialist war into civil war; defeat your own imperialist government; defend the U. S. S. R. and the colonies by every possible means in the event of imperialist war against them. It is the bounden duty of all sections of the Communist International, and of every one of its members, to carry on propaganda for these slogans.'"

Burgesses Told of Civilian Defense In Bucks County

defense agencies, will be under the direction of the County Civil Defense Council and its coordinator and deputy coordinator.

The meeting was conducted by Col. A. M. Heritage, deputy county defense coordinator, assisted by Knickerbacker Davis, executive of the County Defense Council.

Col. Heritage explained in detail the manner in which a network of air raid warning posts, communications, evacuation centers, police and internal security, fire and other emergency facilities will, when completed, insure maximum protection for the lives and property of Bucks County citizens, should there be an enemy-incurred disaster, as well as in dealing with possible sabotage and subversive activities.

He also graphically described the exact manner in which warning of an air attack, involving the county would be dispatched from a key-point warning center and be sped without loss of a second's time to alert all defense agencies and other emergency and disaster components and bring their personnel and facilities into immediate action.

Col. Heritage further stressed the necessity of securing prompt enlistment of personnel called for by the defense plan, and the start of intensive training enabling each individual selected to gain a thorough understanding of the specialized duties designated for him or her should an emergency arise.

Burgesses attending the meeting and promising full cooperation were: William Burgess, Jr., Morrisville, and his appointed defense director, David E. West, former U. S. Artillery officer in World War II; Lloyd A. Hoagey, Burgess of Sellersville; Walter Herstine, Burgess of Perkaskie, and George Scholes, Burgess of Quakertown, who appeared in the uniform adopted by the Auxiliary Police of Quakertown, and who also explained the steps being taken in that borough to carry out the civil defense agency plan with maximum effectiveness.

"A second meeting of similar character will be held in the near future at which it is hoped there will be a far more complete representation of the county's boroughs, and to which the presidents or their representatives of the county's townships will be invited," said a spokesman.

More valuable — because you can reach more people

Today, in Bristol, you can reach more people by telephone than ever before.

But do you know exactly how many telephones you can now reach in this area? More than 6,900.

Do you know what the total was ten years ago? Slightly over 2,000.

Yes, you can now reach more than three times as many telephones as you could in 1940. With every year, with every month, your telephone gives you more and more service for your money.

Growing Value

The number of telephones here will continue to grow. To meet this growth, we recently completed an addition to the equipment in the Bristol Central Office. Furthermore, by the end of this year we will have added substantial quantities of outside wire and cable. All told, these improvements will have cost more than $135,000 by the close of 1951.

This new equipment will not only provide service for more people, but will enable us to continue to give good and dependable telephone service at low cost... the kind of service you have come to expect!
